DISCOVERY OF WEYLER'S PLAN.

Plans to Strike Spain a Blow that Will End War Quickly.

Washington, May 9. There is the utmost reticence on the statement that today passed without a report from Admiral Sampson, the navy department does not expect to hear from him within several days.

The authority for this statement is fully acquainted with Admiral Sampson's plans and the remark would seem to indicate that the admiral, having failed to find the enemy at the place expected, had turned his head to the alternative project.

What this is cannot be ascertained. It is evident, however, that the department is under no apprehensions as to the safety of the fleet, nor of any vessel of the fleet.

The war department today informed the country through the press how where the various state organizations are to be concentrated.

It is the first time any official statement has been made as to the points of concentration themselves. The order as published by the department is thought in some quarters to warrant the assumption that it contemplates a speedy movement of the United States military forces upon Cuba and in much greater force than was originally planned.

The war department officials refuse to say anything on this point, but there is every evidence that they expect a short, sharp, conclusive and immediate campaign, such as could not be waged by five or ten thousand soldiers.

It is also to be noted that preparations made by the quartermaster's department and the commissary department, so far as disclosed by actual orders, indicate provision is being made for mobilizing, transporting and feeding many thousands of men outside of the United States.

MOBILIZING TROOPS.

With a view to systematizing the work of mobilizing the forces and putting them in service, the war department has planned a scheme which, it is believed, will very much hasten the work of getting the men together and equipping them while avoiding any congestion of the railroad traffic. Instead of allowing all the troops called for from a particular state to be assembled and broken up at the rendezvous, the department is instructing its mustering officers to complete the organization of regiments as rapidly as possible, and as soon as one is organized to report the fact to the department, when that regiment will be ordered at once to the point selected for concentration.

In this way the government will be relieved greatly in the distribution of stores, which will be sent forward only as fast as they are needed. The men will also be more amenable to discipline when quietly transferred to the concentration points outside their own states. It is the expectation that the first regiments organized and reported from the states will be sent to Chattanooga, thence going to Cuba via Mobile, Tampa, New Orleans and Galveston, for expeditions will be dispatched from each of these ports. The governors of the states will have no hand in the designation of the regiments to go to particular concentration centers, the destination will depend on the promptness with which the volunteers are organized and are ready for transportation.

Probably about one-third of the entire force called for by the President of about 50,000 troops will constitute those to be sent south to take part in the campaign, following the regiments now organized.

EQUIPMENT OF TROOPS.

These troops will be the first to receive the equipment, which was begun by Gen. Miles a circular issued to-day. When they are organized, equipped and concentrated, the government will be ready to supply the second, third and fourth divisions of the volunteers, which will be assigned to duty in the department of the east, which will place them along the shores of Delaware bay and river as coast guards to protect the important shipping interests of that section. When these are equipped, the government will turn its attention to the third class, comprising the last third of the volunteers called for.

It is the sincere hope of the war department that it will not be called upon to fully equip these troops before hostilities are at an end, but the work of preparation is proceeding on the contrary assumption.

The third division will constitute the second reserve to be drawn upon for reinforcements wherever needed, but it is possible that the men never will be called upon to leave their own state unless the plans of the war department miscarry.

One of the first class will come the troops which will be sent to the Philippines. Gen. Miles has prepared a scheme changing the boundaries of the present departments to facilitate the working out of the plan, and it is now in form for Secretary Alger for improvement. The responses so far received from the mustering officers continue to be very encouraging. The following telegram today from Gov. Clough to Adjt. Gen. Corbin shows the state of feeling in the west:

"State Camp, St. Paul, Minn.

"Troops all mustered in, and I believe we have three regiments that are second to none—the 12th, 13th and 14th regiments. All anxiously waiting to go to the front. Please do not overlook Minnesota, the star state."

STATE TROOPS.

Where They are to be Sent for Duty.

Statement Given Out by Secretary Alger.

Washington, May 9. In answer to repeated requests from all sections of the country for information as to where the various organizations of State troops which are being mustered into the United States service are to be sent, Secretary Alger today furnished the Associated Press the following statement showing the destination of the volunteer troops. This is subject to correction. The points are given as the greater number of troops, but in case being to divide the forces in such a way as to make three lots for three distinct purposes. The first regiments found ready for service are to be sent to Chickamauga to join Lee's corps, and thence to Tampa and other gulf ports preparatory to embarking for Cuba.

The second division of regiments go to Washington, where they are to form a grand reserve ready to reinforce the Cuban army at any moment, to man the coast defenses, or for other purposes. The third division is to remain for the present in the States in which the organizations are mustered, subject to call for duty in the Philippines or for general reserve purposes. Possibly they may never be called upon to leave their native States.

The official list includes the following:

To Washington, D. C.—Massachusetts, one regiment infantry.

To Camp General H. Thomas, Chickamauga—Illinois, eight regiments; Vermont, one regiment.

To Department Commanders for coast defenses and reserve:

Connecticut—One regiment infantry and two batteries heavy artillery and one battery light artillery.

Maine—One regiment infantry and one battery heavy artillery.

Massachusetts—Two regiments infantry and one battery heavy artillery.

New Hampshire—One regiment infantry.

Rhode Island—One regiment infantry.

STEAMER ROMAN CHASED BY A SPANIARD.

Boston, May 9. Capt. Roberts, of the Warren line steamship Roman, now in this port, reports that at noon last Friday, when 50 miles southeast from Sable Island, or 600 miles due east from Boston, a Spanish torpedo boat was sighted. She was sharp and low at both ends, with two funnels close together. She had no mast and she showed no flag. She was under full head of steam and was clearing the water at the rate of 12 knots an hour, about the same speed that the Roman was then maintaining. She continued steaming in the same direction for fully half an hour after she was sighted, and was apparently gaining on the Roman. At this juncture a thick fog settled over the ocean, accompanied with rain and the boat was lost sight of.

The incident was considered of sufficient importance for Pilot Geo. W. Lawler, who brought the Roman in this port, to notify Capt. Sands, commander of the cruiser Columbia, now in the harbor. Capt. Sands dispatched one of the lieutenants in a steam launch to the Roman to obtain full particulars.

NO FOUNDATION FOR REPORT.

Cape Haytien, Hayti, May 9. Mr. Julius C. Tyler, United States consul at Martinique says there is no foundation for the report that a Spanish fleet has been sighted off that island.

MATTHEWS ORDERED TO COMMAND.

Boston, May 9. Brig. Gen. Matthews of the 1st brigade has been ordered to assume command of the State forces now on duty on the coast for a period of 12 days, which he will be relieved by Brig. Gen. Bancroft of the second brigade for a similar period.

TALKING FIGHT AGAIN.

Fitzsimmons Says Hill Will Meet Corbett.

Boston, May 9. Bob Fitzsimmons this afternoon announced his acceptance of the offer of Kid McCoy to pay the champion $10,000 for a fight at middle weight, and also his acceptance of the offer of James J. Corbett of $25,000 for an opportunity to regain the heavy weight championship. Fitzsimmons says he will meet either man before the regularly organized club offering the largest purse, but he will insist on a side bet of $10,000 in each case, and both matches must take place before the last of September. The announcement is accompanied by the offer of Julian Fitzsimmons, manager, and the prize fighter himself, to bet $2,500 that neither McCoy nor Corbett will make good his offer.

Fitzsimmons says that he will enter the ring one month after the signing of articles.

As a guarantee of good faith the moneys offered for the fights must be placed in responsible hands and must be paid to Fitzsimmons the moment he enters the ring. Fitzsimmons stated that his acceptance of the offers is prompted only by the recent newspaper assaults emanating from those pugilists and it is to ascertain their sincerity rather than catering to this as a means of advertising.

CORBETT ANXIOUS FOR ANOTHER GO.

Denver, Colo., May 9. After reading the Associated Press dispatch from Boston this afternoon announcing that Bob Fitzsimmons had accepted his offer of $25,000 "for an opportunity to regain the heavy weight championship," James J. Corbett sent the following despatch to W. A. Brady, his manager, who is in New York city:

"Do notify Bob Fitzsimmons and tell him I mean business. Show him the money."

Washington, May 9. The Senate committee on finance continued its work today on the war revenue bill beginning with the unfinished amendments offered by the Republican members of the stamp tax schedule. The committee considered the two matters of the elimination of the tonnage tax and the changing of the tobacco schedule so as to relieve stock on hand from taxation absolutely settled. They have decided to leave the beer schedule as it passed the House except that the rebate is to be increased from 5 to 7½ per cent.

The Democratic members of the committee have completed their amendments and decided fully upon a program. In addition to their provision for a corporation tax, they will offer an amendment authorizing the issuance of $150,000,000 in non-interest bearing treasury notes, and another authorizing the coinage of the silver seigniorage in the treasury. It now seems quite certain that the provision will be incorporated in the bill as reported to the Senate and that the bond provision will be stricken out.

NEW FEATURES FORESHADOW TROUBLE FOR SPAIN.

London, May 10. The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"Martial law has been proclaimed in Seville and Saragossa and will probably be extended throughout the country. The most significant fact of the present moment is that the military party is beginning to use its undoubted strength. Gen. Loschambre, who has lately returned from the Philippines, convened yesterday afternoon Sunday the military members of the cortes at which it was resolved to accentuate their solidarity on all questions directly or indirectly connected with the army, such action to be wholly irrespective and independent of politics.

"At a future meeting they will invite the cooperation of naval members of the cortes, considering that there is a community of interests between the two branches of the services. This new development foreshadows a serious factor which any future ministry will be compelled to consider."

The Biarritz correspondent of the Daily Mail, dilating upon Spain's internal troubles, says:

"But for the necessity of getting the war credits voted in the cortes Senor Sagasta would have decreed the suspension of the constitutional guarantees, thus placing the whole country under military jurisdiction. The difficulties for the poor people are worse than those of the government. The latter are [illegible] the former are unable to obtain either food [illegible] buyers are too small to buy sufficient food for themselves and their families. In the mining regions of Entre Madera and other places the miners are nearly famished.

SUFFERING DEEPLY.

"Meanwhile speculators make corners to raise the price of food and industry is paralized. In the Balearic Islands, thousands of workmen are living on alms. WHOSE FAULT IS IT?

A Local Occurrence That Will Interest Many Readers in Bangor.

When the fog horn warns the mariner to steer off the coast hostile reefs and wrecks upon dangerous shoals is the red switch light lit up and the engine driver deflected? Pulls ahead and goes into another train? Blame the driver? If a careless workman will in spite of warnings, try to pull out but how only teeth a buzz-saw has and the saw goes to find out how many fingers the workman has, blame the workman, not the saw. If a sick man knows that a certain medicine is doing him good and he carelessly neglects to use it, blame the man, not the medicine. If Bangor people who have back pain and kidney plaint will not use Doan's Kidney Pills when they are recommended by stores and citizens, blame the people, not the benefactors. Read this testimonial.

Mrs. George Wray of No. 30 Larkin street says: "The many little and constantly recurring miseries of kidney ailment are more numerous than can be mentioned and when you can find an antidote for such you are only too pleased to speak of it. I do not judge of Doan's Kidney Pills from hearsay, but from their work. I suffered from lame back, it pitched anything I stooped, right in the loin a sharp piercing pain always caught me. When carrying my child around it hurt me so it grew worse so tired of better it pulled me to the down. I got relief by procuring Doan's Kidney Pills at Ara Wyeth's drug store and they cured me. My trouble is over. They did their work thoroughly. The secret of their success lies in the fact that they first correct the kidney action. This is the fruitful cause of lame back and I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for it."

Dewey and His Officers Honored by Measures Passed in Congress Monday.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT.

The Manila Hero Given Title Placing Him Rear Admiral of Navy.

Washington, May 9. Fitting tribute was paid by the Senate today to Commodore Dewey for the magnificent victory achieved in the battle of Manila bay. A message from the President was received recommending that a vote of thanks be extended by Congress to Commodore Dewey and the gallant officers and men of his command.

Without a word of debate and without a dissenting vote the Senate agreed to the resolution carrying into effect the recommendation of the President.

A bill was presented increasing the number of rear admirals in the navy from six to seven in order that the President might nominate Commodore Dewey to the highest position in the navy within his gift, and this, too, was passed without dissent.

In addition, a joint resolution was unanimously agreed to directing the secretary of the navy to present to Commodore Dewey a sword of honor and to have struck, in commemoration of the battle of Manila, bronze medals for each of the officers and men who participated in the fight. The resolution appropriates $10,000 to enable the secretary to carry the resolutions into effect. The bill offered last Friday authorizing the postmaster general to establish posts and military posts and camps in order to facilitate the delivery of mail to soldiers, was reported favorably by the post office and post roads committee and unanimously passed. Subsequently an amendment to the post office appropriation bill was agreed to appropriating $50,000 to carry the bill into effect.

The postoffice appropriation bill was under discussion during almost the entire session, the subject of a session being the proposition to reduce the compensation of railroads twenty per cent, and employing the mails. The proposition was defeated 40 to 8.

At late hour it became evident the bill could not be disposed of today and it was unanimously agreed to vote on it at 10 o'clock tomorrow.

Mr. Hainer introduced a bill providing that the number of rear admirals of the United States navy be increased one. As to serve the purpose of the bill it is believed to enable the President to nominate Commodore Dewey as a rear admiral.

The bill was passed without a division. Mr. Quay's suggestion that a sword be presented to Admiral Dewey had been anticipated as Mr. Lodge (Mass.) offered the following resolution:

"That the Secretary of the Navy be, and he is hereby authorized to present a sword of honor to Commodore Dewey and to cause to be struck, bronze medals commemorating the battle of Manila bay, and to distribute such medals to the officers and men of the ships of the Asiatic squadron of the United States under command of Commodore George Dewey on May 1, 1898, and that a sum sufficient to carry out this resolution, the sum of $10,000 is hereby appropriated."

The resolution was agreed to without debate.

Mr. Chandler (N. H.) from the committee on postoffices favorably reported the bill introduced last Friday, authorizing the postmaster general to establish postoffices in military posts and camps during the present war.

The amendment was adopted.

An amendment offered by Mr. Butler providing for the establishment of railroad companies in case of their refusal to carry mails on fast express trains is directed to do so by the postmaster general was agreed to.

Mr. Butler then offered an amendment eliminating from that section of the bill which provides for an investigation of the question as to whether excessive prices are being paid railroads for carrying the mails, it is a clause which extends the investigation to all sources of revenue and expenditures of the postal service.

Pending action upon the amendment Mr. Quay desired unanimous consent that a final vote on the bills and amendment be taken at 2 o'clock tomorrow. The Senate then at 6.35 adjourned.

THE HOUSE.

Washington, May 9. The greater part of today in the House was consumed by war measures. The recommendation of the President that a vote of thanks be tendered Commodore Dewey and his associate officers and men was followed quickly with a unanimous vote, and with equal content the House passed the bill creating an additional rear admiralship for the here of Manila. The bill providing for the organization of volunteer engineer brigades and enlistment of 10,000 volunteer troops immune to tropical diseases, was passed after two hours' debate.

The principal ground of opposition presented was found in the features giving to the President the appointment of all officers.

The Senate bill authorizing the army to distribute food among the suffering Cubans and to arm the Cuban people was passed.

SUPPLIES FOR CUBANS.

After some bills affecting matters in the District of Columbia were considered, the bill passed by the Senate authorizing the army while operating in Cuba to issue food and supplies to the Cubans and to arm the Cuban people with a view to increasing their military effectiveness was passed with a few unimportant amendments.

An arrangement was made to consider the District of Columbia business tomorrow. Mr. Hull called up the bill to amend the volunteer and engineer bill. After hour of debate in each side was agreed upon.

Mr. Hull said the Senate bill was wanted by the President and the secretary of war, and its immediate passage was urged because the time for the use of troops in Cuba was at hand and the utmost haste should be made to prepare the troops contemplated in the bill.

Mr. Cox (Tenn.) opposed the bill principally because it took out of the hands of the volunteers the appointment of officers. He contended that the immunes would spring from two or three southern States and they would name their colonels, lieutenant colonels, majors, captains and field officers. To deny them this privilege would be unfair and would be a discrimination between the volunteers called out under the previous act and those to be called out under the proposed bill.

Mr. Hay (Va.) declared that the victory at Manila made it questionable whether large volunteers would be needed and he believed the President had the right, under the volunteer bill to call out any number of volunteers he wanted.

Mr. King (Utah) asserted that the bill was unnecessary; that it discredited the territory and power of the troops in controlling the 150,000 men already organized and by our fleet, was sufficiently adequate to subjugate the island and establish peace. "If we had landed 25,000 men on the island two weeks ago," he decided with vehemence, "and taken adequate arms to the insurgents, and had deployed our fleet before Havana, Havana long since would have fallen and the Stars and Stripes long ere this would floated from Morro Castle."

Mr. Hawley (Tex.) said the bravery of the bravest men could not cope with the filthy and insalubrious "yellow fever, before which armies bowed. The organization of immunes was imperative under the conditions in Cuba.

MEMBERS CRITICISED.

Mr. Grow (Pa.) the veteran member of the House criticised those members who assumed to know better how to conduct the war than the President and his secretaries of war and navy. He said many people believed it would have been folly to put our fleet against Havana, Spanish fleet on the seas.

Mr. Steele (Ind.) opposed the bill.

Mr. Sayers (Tex.) said that while he preferred to have the bill amended so as to leave the naming of the officers with the volunteers he would support it without such amendment in the event that the latter could not be secured.

Mr. Lewis (Wash.) opposed the feature of the bill which placed with the President the appointment of officers and further opposed the bill because it was indefinite as to the determination of the question of the volunteers immunity.

Mr. Lentz (Ohio) opposed the bill and Mr. Bailey argued for the naming of the officers by the troops to be appointed by the governors of the States in accordance with the volunteer bill formerly passed.

After a number of amendments intended to take from the President the appointment of officers of the immune volunteers had been voted down an additional section offered by Mr. Grosvenor (O.) was adopted. It declared specifically that the provisions relative to appointment of volunteers to the general states under the call by proclamation and to the appointment of officers in the recent act providing for 125,000 volunteers should not apply to the present act. A motion to recommit, offered by Mr. Cox (Tenn.), was voted down and the bill as amended was passed.

NAVAL BATTALION BILL.

The presentation of a conference report upon the bill to organize a naval battalion in the District of Columbia, recommending that the House recede from its contention that the battalion be organized as a part of the present militia of the district and not as an additional and permanent feature, brought from Mr. Bailey (Dem., Tex.) a brief speech, but the danger of legislating at this time touching the army and navy establishments. He said Congress was united in a determination to prosecute the war to an early and victorious end, but it should be on guard against any permanent increase in the army and navy features of the government. He referred to recent journalistic expressions congratulating the country upon the growth of sentiment favorable to a stronger army and navy as deplorable.

Mr. Hilborn, explaining the conference report, said, it had appeared that the militia component of the district was filled, and the naval battalion could not be organized as a part of the present militia.

The report was adopted 13 to 32. Those not voting but present increased the number present to a quorum.

At 4.30 P. M. the House adjourned pending the disposition of a motion of Mr. Hilborn to reconsider the vote by which the conference report was adopted, Mr. Bailey having again raised the point of no quorum.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT FOR THOS. M. BRAM.

Boston, May 9. Thomas M. Bram, it is thought, will accept the verdict of the last jury which found him guilty of the murder of Capt. Nash of the barkentine Herbert Fuller, and will receive a sentence of imprisonment of life, the jury having declined against capital punishment. This forenoon, his counsel, Mr. Cotter and Mr. French, consulted with District Attorney Jones and his assistant, Mr. Casey, in Mr. Jones' office in regard to the exceptions taken by the defence during the trial. At the conclusion of the trial the defence was given until last Monday to decide whether it would file exceptions, but the time was later extended until today. However, nothing new developed today.

If it is not definitely known whether Bram's counsel will carry the exceptions to the Supreme Court or whether the defendant will waive them and take his sentence, but it is generally believed that Bram is disposed to take his sentence.

DOWNING MAY BE SHOT.

The Spanish Spy to be Tried by Court Martial at Washington.

Washington, May 9. By direction of the President, Assistant Secretary Meiklejohn of the war department has been placed in charge of the military secret service of the government during the continuance of the war with Spain. The entire secret service of the treasury department has been placed at his disposal.

The first evidence of the vigilant work done under the assistant secretary's supervision was the arrest of George Downing in Washington Saturday, charged with being a Spanish spy. A court martial will be appointed to try the prisoner. Two charges are preferred against Downing. The first is that of acting as a spy in violation of section 1343 of the revised statutes. The second charge is giving intelligence to the enemy in violation of the 50th article of war.

Under the first charge the prisoner is liable on conviction to suffer death, while under the second his punishment shall either be death or such other as the court martial may direct. The prisoner will be given permission to employ counsel for his defense. If the sentence is death, the prisoner will probably be shot.

Article 50 of war numbered 43 and section 1343 of the revised statutes prescribe the punishment which shall be meted out to those found guilty of relieving the enemy, holding correspondence with him or engaging in rebellion against the United States. The war department officials express and desire that these should be published at this time, as they may be instrumental in deterring from such acts persons who might otherwise, not knowing the laws, violate them.

The articles of war and the section of the revised statutes referred to are as follows:

Article 43. Whosoever relieves the enemy with money victuals or ammunition, or knowingly harbors or protects an enemy shall, suffer death or such other punishment as a court martial shall direct.

Article 50. Whosoever holds correspondence with or gives intelligence to the enemy, either directly or indirectly, shall suffer death or such other punishment as the court martial shall direct.

Section 1343, revised statutes. All persons who in time of war or of rebellion against the supreme authority of the United States shall be found lurking or acting as spies in or about any of the military, naval, or other fortifications, posts, quarters or encampments of any of the armies of the United States or elsewhere, shall be tried by a general court martial, or by a military commission and shall on conviction thereof suffer death.

Starting a Big Machine.

Did you ever see a careful engineer start a big pumping engine? He goes about it in a very deliberate manner indeed. Chief Engineer Michael Hodge, who has charge of the three gigant a pumping engines at the Allegheny waterworks at Monroe station, gave an illustrated lecture on the subject the other day to a visitor who happened into the plant. Turning a little wheel he said: "It takes about 15 minutes to start one of these pumps. I am turning on a little steam to start to warm up her jacket before she gets down to hard work. A machine is like a man in a long distance race—she has to get limbered up before she is capable of her very best work. The work this engine does when she gets down to business is to take 600 gallons of water out of the river every revolution of her driving wheel and start it on its way to Allegheny. She runs at the rate of 15 revolutions per minute, and you can easily see that she has no snap, but turns every cent of her wages."

Diving down into the basement Mr. Hodge turned a valve wheel a part of the way round, and then went up stairs and turned on a little steam at the main valve. Then the ponderous driving wheel, which weighs a trifle over 25 tons, began to revolve slowly. Down into the basement he went again to open the intake valve a trifle more and then up to the main steam valve to give her a little more steam. With running about, turning a little wheel here and there, several assistants also helping with the work, it was fully 15 minutes from the time the first steam had been turned on until the big machine was running at regulation speed and doing a regulation amount of work.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Shark Charmers.

In the Persian gulf the divers have a curious way of opening the season. They expand implicitly upon the charm conjurers and will not descend without their presence. To meet this difficulty the government is obliged to hire the charmers to divert the attention of the sharks from the fleet. As the season approaches vast numbers of natives gather along the shore and erect huts and tents and bazaars. At the opportune moment—usually at midnight, so as to reach the oyster banks at sunrise—the fleet, to the number of 80 or 100 boats, puts out to sea. Each of these boats carries two divers, a steersman and a shark charmer and is manned by eight or ten rowers. Other conjurers remain on shore, twisting their bodies and mumbling incantations to divert the sharks. In case a man enter is perverse enough to disregard the charm and attack a diver an alarm is given, and no other diver will descend on that day. The power of the conjurer is believed to be hereditary, and the efficacy of his incantations to be wholly independent of his religious faith.—Frank H. Sweet on "Pearl Seeking," in Lippincott's.

English Women Smokers.

A New York society woman who has a long list of social connections in England said in discussing the smoking habit among women over there, about which so much has been printed lately: "English women whom I have received in my home—and I receive many—almost without exception smoke. It is not a struggling matter with them, as it still is with our women, to some extent. It is a matter of course." And the cigarette habit is growing fast in feminine circles here. If you don't believe it, inquire in the stores where "specially made for women" articles are sold. Smokers' outfits for all sorts and conditions of womanhood are now on sale, most of the high priced ones being imported from dear old London.—New York Letter.

MARTIAL LAW.

Islands. They are beginning to succeed and their experts to Manila and Iloilo were increasing rapidly. While promising condition of things has been blighted by the war. The Cuban manufacturers have foreign markets only in Mexico and the South American republics, and commercial relations with these are not yet fully developed.

"The warehouses are filled to the ceilings with goods which will have to remain there till the war is over, and thousands of workmen, famished with hunger, will easily become the prey of political agitators and complicate the social and political situation of the country. The republicans declare that the moment the telegraph announces a new disaster to the Spanish arms the great masses of the country will rise and sweep away everything. The Carlists say that if there are fresh disasters they will seize power. Therefore the key to the situation lies over seas. The Carlists are well organized. The republicans are divided by differences of programs and the rivalries of their leading men. That portion which is capable of active practical work has called upon to get the support of at least part of the army, without which they know they can hardly expect to succeed. So far they have not succeeded in forming an alliance with the military, who they say have imposed such conditions that the negotiations have had to be broken off.

"They put much faith in Weyler, but he is simply waiting for his own chance and will venture nothing unless absolutely assured of success. The report that Weyler has arrived at an understanding with Marshal Campos is untrue.

"They are not even on speaking terms. The nation as a whole, however, is indifferent to the struggles of parties, for it trusts none of them."

FASHIONS IN TEARS.

Strange as It May Seem, There Are Modes Even in Weeping.

Fashions change even in spiritual matters, and it has been decreed that it is no longer a subject of pathetic interest for women to weep.

"Those tender lines of Kipling,

For men must work
And women must weep,
And there's little to do,
But many to keep
Though the harbor bar be moaning, are still true enough when up left to the men who go down to the sea in ships and to the wives, daughters and sweethearts who wait and watch for them. But to the woman in town and country the edict has gone forth, "Weep no more." The day has passed when the big, sad eyes, ready to send forth a flood of tears on the slightest provocation, can prove an effective weapon against refractory man. He knows too much about it. It is useful to a woman as a relief to her nervous system—any physician can tell her that it has its physiological benefits—but masculinity cannot be subdued by those moist methods. When she begins to show the old fashioned signs of distress, man gently interferes: "Now, don't cry. It makes your nose red and your eyes ugly. It won't change me." Or if his is especially curious he will shout: "For heaven's sake, stop that crying game unless you want to get rid of me! I won't stand it."

A woman enjoys crying. The wise man is aware of this and is never heartless enough to attempt stopping a source of pleasure. But it is one more reason why he is not affected by her tears. If they arise from bodily pain or mental suffering, he is all sympathy, but the hysterical overflow that can be produced on an instant's notice, that seems to be on tap—because her dress doesn't fit in one particular or she looks a crime to complete one especial purpose—does not now excite his interest.

When a man cries, it is from the diaphragm, and the sobs give him actual physical pain. His sex follows know this and can sympathize with him. But women cry from the oldest or throat without too slightest effort, and men know that too. The old German proverb, "Nothing cries sooner than a tear," must have been written by a man who had had experience with the wiles of weeping women. There is a quaint old English poem that gives a list of the various evil spirits that infest this world and inflict injury upon more or less undeserving mortals, and concludes with the startling statement that "a weeping woman with two black eyes is the wickedest devil of them all."

The principal point for the consideration of a woman is that when she must have her "good, comfortable cry" she should take her consolation privately. When not in the presence of sympathizing man, who may even forget to cry, and if she remembers there is a possibility that she will forget the cause of her lachrymose desires, and smiles may again chase away the tears as they did in childish years. If the sex has reformed in this respect, men need not claim the credit. It is a busy, bustling age, in the cities at least, and the women have learned to be wise, earnest and strong, as factors in the dal yeiffe of a world that demands the best efforts from them. They are responding bravely and intelligently, and there is no time left for crying.—Philadelphia Times.

Boston's Great Man.

"Boston may be the center of culture of the United States, but I found no evidence of that fact in my first trip to the Hub," remarked the young commercial traveler. "The culture may be there all right enough, but the Bostonians with whom I came in contact seemed less proud of it than of a certain other feature of the town. When I I rushed in Boston, I approached a policeman and asked him to direct me to a good hotel. He mentioned a good house to me and added, 'On your way up to the hotel you'll see the house where John L. lives.' 'John L. who?' I asked, very stupidly. 'Sullivan, of course,' said he, with a look of supreme pity for my ignorance.

"A little farther on I met a fellow whom I knew slightly. 'Come, have a cigar,' said I. He said he hadn't time, but he told me where I could get a good cigar. 'It's a little store in the middle of the next block. By the way, see that house on the other side of the street? That's where John L. lives.' I passed on to the cigar store. 'They tell me I can get a good cigar here,' I remarked. 'That's right,' said the man. 'Stranger in these parts?' 'You bet.' 'Well, that house over the—that's where Sullivan lives.'

"Conductors, bellboys, business men, elevator boys, clerks, barbers, bar tenders—everybody called my attention to that house during my stay. He was the only great man to whom the natives gave first place in calling my attention."—Philadelphia Record.

To the bondholders of the Bangor Opera House Company:—

Thomas U. Coe of Bangor, Penobscot County, hereby gives notice as follows:

First.—That the Bangor Opera House Company, a corporation duly created under the laws of Maine, and having an established place of business in said Bangor, did on the second day of January, 1882, by virtue and under authority of its corporate act, at a meeting duly called and held for the purpose on the tenth day of November, 1881, make, issue and deliver two hundred and fifty of its bonds of eighty dollars each bearing date January 2, 1882, and amounting in all to the sum of twenty thousand dollars; said bonds becoming due on the first day of January, 1897, and payable with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum payable semi-annually on the first day of July and January of each year.

Second.—In order to secure the payment of said bonds and interest thereon accruing thereon, said corporation on the sixteenth day of May, 1882, by its chattel mortgage of that date duly authorized by its stockholders, conveyed and recorded in Vol. 15, page 272, of Bangor Records of Mortgages, did mortgage and convey in mortgage to said Thomas U. Coe all of the personal property of said corporation, situate in said Bangor, and contained in the premises known and called the Bangor Opera House, together with any other personal property to be purchased by said Bangor Opera House Company, as mortgagor and grantors, did thereby agree with said trustee, the said Thomas U. Coe, as grantee, that the right of redeeming said mortgaged premises should be forever foreclosed in one year next after the commencement of foreclosure by any of the conditions now provided by law.

Fifth: Said Thomas U. Coe duly accepted and agreed to perform the duties required of him under said mortgage.

Sixth.—That said bonds became due by the terms thereof on the first day of January, 1897, and still remain due and unpaid. The semi-annual interest, due July 1, 1896, and January 1, 1897, on the principal of said debts by the terms of said bonds and coupons thereto annexed, remain overdue and unpaid. So that more than sixty days have elapsed within which the payment of said bonds, and interest on the same, should have been made, and said Corporation, said Bangor Opera House Company, has broken the conditions of its said mortgage and still remains in default therein.

Seventh.—That said Thomas U. Coe, trustee as aforesaid, on the twenty-third day of April, 1897, received a written notice as provided in said mortgage, from more than two owners and holders of said mortgage bonds, requesting him to foreclose said mortgage for the conditions thereof were and still remained broken.

Eighth.—Said Thomas U. Coe, as trustee aforesaid, duly filed on the thirteenth day of April, 1898, in the Supreme Judicial Court of the State of Maine, sitting at Bangor within and for the County of Penobscot, his bill in equity to foreclose said mortgage according to said notice and conditions and accordingly thereon, the said Bangor Opera House Company, the said corporation, and all persons claiming under it, were absolutely debarred and foreclosed of and from all right and equity of redemption in or to the said mortgaged premises, and every part thereof on and after the thirteenth day of April, A. D. 1898, and said mortgage has not been redeemed.

Ninth.—It is further provided in said mortgage that in case said Company, said mortgagor, shall fail to perform its part of the conditions of said mortgage, and the same shall be foreclosed by said trustee and the title to said mortgaged property become absolute in him as trustee under said foreclosure, the holders of a majority of said bonds shall have the right and the power to form a new corporation, with a capital stock of twenty thousand dollars, divided into two hundred and fifty shares of eighty dollars each, to which the said trustee shall transfer and assign and convey by good and sufficient deed all the property in said mortgage to him conveyed, upon condition that said new corporation shall tender to each and every owner of a bond secured thereby one share of the capital stock of said new corporation in lieu of said bond upon the said bond, is provided, and the purchasers of said bonds thereon agree to surrender said bonds to said new corporation for said share of stock, at the time to be used by said corporation only so far as necessary to uphold the title to the property under said mortgage.

Tenth.—If said trustee shall foreclose said mortgage, and the same is not redeemed, it is provided that he shall immediately after said redemption expires call a meeting of all the bondholders by publishing a notice in two daily papers in the City of Bangor at least two weeks before the time fixed for said meeting.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given by the subscriber, the said Thomas U. Coe, trustee in said mortgage, that a meeting of all said bondholders will be held on Monday, the twenty-third day of May, A. D. 1898, at three o'clock P. M. at the Town Opera House Building, in Bangor, said for the purpose of forming a new corporation as provided in said mortgage, and as specified by the decree of the court aforesaid.

SERGEANT GALVIN.

Bangor Boy of Uncle Sam's Scouts Going to Cuba.

Sergeant Daniel Galvin of the U. S. A. troop of scouts of the Columbia Division of Washington State, was in Bangor last night on his way to Washington from Lincoln, Maine where he has been on a three weeks' furlough. He left on the 11 o'clock train for Augusta where he will report today through Col. Norton to the War Department for orders.

Sergeant Galvin is a Bangor boy and left thirteen years ago for the West and has not been home since.

Five years ago he joined the United States army and for four years was stationed at Vancouver, Washington, where he honestly rose in the ranks till two years ago he received a sergeant's commission. He was recruited at the Pine Ridge Agency at the time of the celebrated Indian uprising and with a company of scouts witnessed that famous battle. Since entering the service he has received many official compliments and wears on his breast a gold medal as the prize sharpshooter of company F, Fourteenth Regiment U. S. A.

Over a year ago he was selected for the troop of scouts and since that time has been constantly in the saddle.

When hostilities broke out between Spain and the United States he received notification from the War Department to proceed to Washington to report for duty. On reaching the Capital he asked for leave of absence to visit his sisters in Lincoln.

The intent on of the war department evidently was to have Sergeant Galvin join the troop as one of the Colonel Roosevelt's troop and he expects a telegram at Augusta ordering him back to Washington at once. While in Lincoln he was the recipient of many courtesies from the particular citizens of that place, and a large crowd was on the station yesterday as he started from Washington. And he was busy handshaking and bidding farewell.

Sergeant Galvin is anxious to get back into the service, as he says he feels out of place in civilian clothes, which he had not worn since entering Uncle Sam's service. Besides, he says he is anxious to get a crack at the Dons.

DEATH OF MR. GEO. W. GETCHELL.

Many friends in this city and elsewhere will be pained to learn of the death of Mr. George W. Getchell, the well known plumber, at his home on Jefferson street last evening, the result of a stroke of apoplexy on Sunday night. He had been about and attending to business as usual until stricken down as stated. On Monday at about noon he seemed to rally from the shock but later declined.

Mr. Getchell had been well known in this city for many years and had a large circle of friends, won by his genial disposition.

He leaves a wife and four children also a brother, Mr. C. E. Getchell, to mourn his loss. The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

Mr. Getchell's father died about a year ago and his mother a few months ago.

AMUSEMENTS.

Hoyt's "A Bunch of Keys."

Hoyt's "A Bunch of Keys" polished up to date will be presented by the Sparks Company at the Opera House Friday and Saturday next, with a matinee on Saturday. The piece is well known to the theatre going public, and nearly every one has either seen or heard of "A Bunch of Keys," the funniest of all Hoyt comedies, which abounds in the most ridiculous situations, witty sayings and music of the kind that receives four or five encores. The company consists of nearly all new talent this season, headed by Ada Bothner, as Teddy. There is an abundance of bright music and songs, pretty costumes and appropriate stage settings, etc.

The first time Hoyt's name was brought prominently before the public was when

"A Bunch of Keys" was first produced. The "Keys" was a success, and it has made many people laugh. Its annual visit is always looked forward to with pleasant anticipations in the cities where it has been before, because those who have witnessed the performance know a good laugh is in store for them. Several novel features, among which a burlesque on "Trilby" will be given by the quartette. The musical numbers will also be a feature.

(Special to Whig and Courier.)

Freedom, Me., May 9. Ralph J. Wiggin, landlord of Hotel Maine at this place, committed suicide this morning by hanging. He was 62 years of age.

FOUGHT A DRAW.

Lynn, Mass., May 9. Dick O'Brien and Jack Burke fought a twelve round draw at the Hoffman club tonight. The fight was slow throughout, O'Brien not being in condition. Burke started in to force matters but O'Brien had him groggy in the 8th round. He did not follow up his advantage and Burke, recovering his wind, kept O'Brien busy for the balance of the fight.

SAGASTA INTERVIEWED.

London, May 10. The Madrid correspondent of the Post has had a long interview with Senor Sagasta, in the course of which he said: "The last events at Manila have saddened all Spaniards but they have not lost heart. We can say our pride is not wounded. Much has been said regarding the cause of the catastrophe. The truth is we were too few and were overwhelmed by the great superiority of the enemy's forces.

"We must report all our strength and all our energy for tomorrow. Our first duty is to unite in order to vanquish our enemies and to uphold our honor.

"Now this is what grieves me. I believed that the first cannon shot fired by the United States would be a signal for the union of all Spaniards. Certain parliamentary groups disagree with the government and have the possession to make conditions for their support. They thus paralyze our efforts and diminish our strength.

"The situation is very simple and cannot be concealed. Spain is ruined by internal troubles.

"Instead of openly making war America encourages in every way the troubles in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines and if they could they would stir up an insurrection in the peninsula. The future is in the hands of God. No one can foresee it."

TRYING TO PROVISION PORTS.

Kingston, Jam., May 9, 6 P. M. The Spaniards are trying to provision the forts of Cuba, Cuba, before the blockade begins. Today shipping merchants have received cable messages from Santiago and Manzanillo for quantities of food. It is represented that there is little yet to market large quantities of provisions. Two schooners have been chartered here and one has been chartered at Montego Bay.

Carl H. Nichols has purchased of Mr. Willey & Son a fine pair of horses, coal black, for their fine trucks and heavy work.

MURDERED AND SUSPECTED.

Unknown Man Found in East Deering Shipyard—Had Been Shot.

Portland, May 9. The body of an unknown man was found in a shipyard in East Deering this afternoon. The man had been shot and it is quite reasonably a murder.

Residents heard a number of pistol shots in the direction of the shipyard Sunday night, but as the place has for some time been a rendezvous for tramps no attention was paid to the firing. Besides the bullet that struck a vital spot in the body of the unknown victim, a number were found imbedded in a shed nearby. A large number of people have viewed the remains, but no one has been able to identify the dead man. He was apparently about 40 years of age, smooth-shaven and hair quite grey.

He wore a dark brown jack coat and vest, the coat being double breasted, badly worn and bearing the name of James E. Neal, Lynn, Mass., on the inside of the collar. He had on a pair of brown plaid trousers. He wore a pair of nearly new women's sandaletes of a dark purple color which bore the trade mark "Patterson, the shoe man." He also wore a white cotton undershirt and a black and white stripe jersey over shirt. He wore a black soft hat, size 7, with ventilator holes in the side and not very much the worse for wear. There was no trade mark in the hat. He had absolutely nothing in his pockets except a dark handkerchief.

There was a tattoo mark of clasped hands on the inside of his left arm.

The officers worked up several clues but up to last accounts had absolutely no light on the subject.

POWDER MILL EXPLODES.

Portland, Me., May 9. A special to the Argus from South Windham, Me., says: No. 2 shed mill of the Oriental Powder Co. situated about half a mile from this village, exploded with terrific force at 4.15 this afternoon, instantly killing Frank A. Guptill, aged 37 and Walter B. Maxfield, aged about 32. The bodies were badly mutilated and identification was difficult.

Guptill leaves a wife and two small children, and Maxfield leaves a widow.

The cause of the explosion is unknown, but was undoubtedly accidental as no changes were being made in the machinery of the mill.

RECONSTRUCTION ADVISED.

Madrid, May 9. (N. Y. H.) The Queen Regent consulted late this afternoon with Senor Montero Rios, President of the Senate, who advised reconstruction of the cabinet.

It is increasingly probable that the cabinet will be reformed with Senor Gamazo included, after the lower house has adopted his indemnity bill.

"FORCED TO RETREAT."

Madrid, May 9, 9 P. M. An official despatch from Havana states that the American cruiser and torpedo boat attempted to force the Cardenas channel and opened fire on the Spanish gunboats Antonio Lopez, Lizerna and Alerta. After a half hour's engagement the American warships, the despatch says, were "forced to retreat."

COLLINS TO BE ENLISTED.

Augusta, Me., May 9. The war department has consented to allow Major Collins, who was rejected by the examining surgeons, to be enlisted in the Maine volunteer regiment.

About 75 new recruits arrived in this city today, and these with those who passed the examination were mustered into the National Guard.

The mustering into the United States service will begin Tuesday afternoon.

Col. Gould's Rockland battery of light artillery has been selected by Governor Powers as the battery of heavy artillery of Maine's quota.

The examination of the men together with the mustering into the United States service of this battery, will be conducted at Rockland.

GREAT BRITAIN IS LOOKING OUT FOR HER INTERESTS.

London, May 10. The Hong Kong correspondent of the Chronicle says:

"The British in Manila have forwarded a petition through the British consul to Vice Admiral Seymour (commander-in-chief of the China station) for further naval assistance and it is anticipated that additional vessels will be sent there on Wednesday. The British consul is working in thorough harmony with the American commander, but it is felt that the overwhelming British commercial interests require supervision by a force sufficient to keep the Spaniards and natives in check.

"There is a desire here to advocate a British acquisition of the Philippines, thus completing the chain of British possessions from the straits settlements by Borneo to this colony. It is felt however that the occupation of the Philippines by any other great Europe power would be most dangerous to British interests.

"Business in Manila is at a complete standstill but the Spaniards are not likely to surrender until the city is blown to pieces. The British inhabitants however are confident that the trouble will soon be over."

GUNBOAT MAYFLOWER TAKES A FISHING SMACK

Key West, Fla., May 9. The Spanish fishing smack Santiago Apostol was captured by the gunboat Mayflower off Havana yesterday and brought in by a prize crew this afternoon.

The war equipment presented to Dr. Oscar E. Wisnatt, by his friends was purchased through the house of J. A. Robinson & Son.

PREPARATIONS FOR REINFORCING DEWEY

Washington, May 9. Evidences of the preparations being made for carrying the troops to the Philippines was apparent at the war department today. The officials had before them a list of between 15 and 20 large vessels whose home port is on the Pacific coast and were making preparations looking to their character as transports. Their aggregate capacity is more than ample for the purpose for which the government should be secured the war department will be able to send cavalry troops to the Philippines in case this is deemed desirable.

If the original program is adhered to the volunteers to be sent to reinforce Admiral Dewey will include the following, at the possible expedition of the artillery from the eastern states, two regiments of infantry and two batteries of heavy artillery from California; one regiment of infantry from Oregon; one from Washington and one battalion of infantry and Senator Shoup's troops of riflemen from Idaho. In addition to these troops, the department will, it is said, avail itself of the four companies of the 14th infantry, now on their way from Vancouver Barracks to San Francisco and portions of the fourth regiment cavalry and third artillery.

BRADY'S STATEMENT.

Corbett Stands by Offer He Made "Fitz" Last February.

Rochester, N. Y., May 9. Wm. A. Brady gave out this signed statement tonight:

James J. Corbett stands by the offer he made Robt. Fitzsimmons to make a match for $10,000 side bet and will guarantee the championship of the world and $25,000, if he (Corbett) fails to stop Fitzsimmons in 10 rounds, and he further agrees that the match shall take place before the last of September this year, and if no club offers as large a purse as $25,000, Corbett will deposit the balance, the whole amount to be paid Fitzsimmons in case Corbett fails to knock him out in the stipulated number of rounds.

As Fitzsimmons has not announced that he will fight again, it remains to be seen whether he will take on the man he has all along claimed to be his easy. He positively assured $25,000 in stakes in Carson rounds in front of Corbett, and $15,000 in case he wins. This is Corbett's offer he made Fitzsimmons last February and he now stands by it and if he will accept Julian's bet of $2,500 that Corbett will be on hand on the day named I will be in New York on Wednesday and will meet Fitzsimmons or his manager to deposit money to make the match.

A COMMON COLD

and common carelessness can make a combination strong enough to defy all the healing skill of the physician. Common carelessness lets the cold root and grow. Common carelessness says, between paroxysms of coughing, "It will be all right in a day or two," and the common cold is confirmed lung trouble, perhaps consumption. The common-sense treatment of a common cold is a prompt dose of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is the most efficient and reliable cure for colds and coughs, and is constantly prescribed by physicians.

B. LAYNES, M. D., Saranac, N. Y., says:—"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my practice since 1883, and have always found it reliable for the cure of colds, coughs, and all lung diseases."

is now put up in half-size bottles, for half price—50 cents.

STATE OF MAINE.

ARBOR DAY.

A PROCLAMATION

By the Governor.

In compliance with a wise provision of the statute, it becomes my duty to proclaim

I am persuaded that the influence of such an observance, with concert of effort, will ever be ennobling and beneficent, and will be a witness in the years to come that we, caring for the future, devoted this day to beautifying and increasing the value of our estates.

Given at the Executive Chamber, in Augusta, this twenty-second day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and twenty-second.

Another Battle Expected Soon.

Washington despatches indicate that the Manila engagement is to be followed by an aggressive campaign on the part of Admiral Sampson's fleet. In fact news of an encounter with the Spanish fleet or a movement against Porto Rico is predicted at almost any moment. It is then intimated that active operations will begin at Cuba, the land forces attacking in the rear while the fleet engages the attention of the enemy on the water front. It hardly seems possible that Admiral Sampson should have the same good fortune that enabled the American ships in Manila to destroy the Spanish fleet without sustaining any loss, but no doubt is entertained of his ability to crush the enemy when they meet in battle. The news of the future movements of this squadron will now be awaited with the deepest interest.

Rear Admiral Dewey,

President McKinley and Congress did a very graceful and appropriate act Monday, the former in a message and the latter by a direct vote, in recognition of the splendid achievement of Rear Admiral Dewey and the officers and men of his fleet in Manila bay. President McKinley immediately on receipt of the news of the grand victory appointed Commodore Dewey in Acting Admiral and Congress by a unanimous vote increased the number of Rear Admirals from six to seven in order to confer a merited honor on a gallant representative of the American Navy.

Mr. Dalley injected himself into the transaction with his characteristic aptitude for doing the wrong thing at the wrong time. He did not interpose objection, but what he did understood that this action on the part of Congress must not be considered a precedent for the creation of high salaried officers. There was nothing in the action of Congress to call for any such comment. It was performing an act that will have the cordial approval of the American people and until a disposition is manifested to do the thing which Mr. Dalley does not want done there was no occasion for him to mar the unanimity of a well deserved compliment by rising in a captious and ill-timed protest to the specific act under consideration.

If Congress is going to run this country into war it is more high salaried officers like Rear Admiral Dewey to be found on the rolls of the navy than the kind of men it will be for the future welfare of our institutions.

Should Annex Hawaii Now.

The proposed annexation of Hawaii presents no last to that has not been exhaustively discussed. The Hawaiian republic has signified its desire to come under the American flag at the earliest possible moment. Her people have left no room for doubt as to their hearty approval of every proposition that contemplates the permanent acquirement of the islands by this government. They are ours without money or conquest.

The great commercial and naval advantage would accrue to us through the next on has now been practically conceded by nearly every one who has given the question intelligent consideration. The present hostilities with Spain should leave no doubt as to the wisdom of annexation. While we already enjoy coaling privileges at Pearl harbor, it must be borne in mind that a conflict between any of the powers of the seas is liable at any time to disturb those privileges, for the reason that we do not possess the islands.

From a naval standpoint the argument in favor of annexation has never been successfully assailed. The strategic advantages guaranteed by American control of the islands are now too apparent to be ignored. The practical enjoyment of these advantages under the recent offer of coal and other war supplies by the Hawaiian government, if accepted, will doubtless prove an object lesson powerful enough to crush the opposition to annexation which has asserted itself for a year or more in the upper branch of Congress.

It is reported that an effort will be made to secure the adoption of the Hawaiian annexation treaty. If this fails a joint resolution will be reported in both Senate and House and will be pressed to a speedy vote. If the opponents resort to filibustering to prevent action in response to the national sentiment on this question, the President will be fully justified in taking possession of the islands as a military measure.

[Chicago Times-Herald.]

Fifteen Years of Navy Building.

If the present conflict with Spain does not deprive us of some of our fighting ships the new vessels authorized by the recently naval appropriation bill, when completed and placed in commission, will lift the nation to a high place among the fighting powers of the world.

Consideration of this bill, which provides for thirty-six new vessels at a cost of over $31,000,000, exclusive of armament, has given great opportunity for the friends of the navy to use the incident in connection with present hostilities with Spain to support their appeals for an armament that will be strong enough to protect our great coast line and at the same time guard our growing commerce on the seas.

It has also afforded opportunity for the advocates of a liberal naval policy to comment upon the wonderful strides already made by this government toward the development of such a navy. Congressman Boutelle of the naval committee was one of those who improved this opportunity in a forcible manner. In a debate with Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, in regard to the adoption of a minor and unimportant amendment Mr. Boutelle called attention to the fact that fifteen years ago our flag was not flying on a single modern ship of war. We could not make a ton of armor in this country. A wonderful progress, however, has been made in navy building in this brief period. What we have done in fifteen years required a half century for its accomplishment by some of the older European powers. In the course of his speech Mr. Boutelle said:

"During that time (fifteen years) we have increased the authorization of vessels of the new navy, including those in the present bill, by 238,014 tons.

"The appropriation for the increase of the navy during that period, including the present bill, have been $161,127,597.

"The increase of the naval force of enlisted men during the fifteen years has been 5,500 men.

"When we come to the increase of the armament of the navy in fifteen years, starting from a condition where we had not a single modern gun afloat, we have put afloat and authorized, including the provisions of this present bill, a navy capable of throwing at every full discharge of its guns 122,200 pounds of metal.

"The number of ships shows a similar proportion. We have built in fifteen years time 11 vessels of all classes.

"Of torpedo boats and destroyers there have been sixty-three authorized.

"This splendid showing of fifteen years of naval construction, together with the superb act on of our cruisers in the battle in Manila bay, cannot fail to give a great stimulus to the work of building up a navy that shall be commensurate with our commerce, interests and that shall fitting ly represent our national dignity and power."

CARIBOU NEWS.

Enjoyable and Successful Party for Benefit of Library.

Fine Appearance of the Town Commented Upon—Flaming Parties in Ordo—Notes.

[Special to Whig and Courier.]

Caribou, May 7. F. L. Carter, a popular clerk in Shaw & Mitton's meat and grocery store, met with a peculiar accident Saturday afternoon. He and Mr. Mitton were at work in the meat room and as the latter was cutting meat on one of the tables he did not notice the proximity of Mr. Carter's head as he stooped over to get something from under the table, and as the knife came through the meat and over the edge of the table it cut a bad gash over Mr. Carter's right eye. Dr. Silcock rendered surgical aid and was obliged to take several stitches.

The whist party in Odd Fellows hall Friday evening in aid of the public library was largely attended and proved very enjoyable. Whist was indulged in until 10.30, at which time refreshments were served. The net proceeds were $40, and will be used for the purchase of new books.

Mrs. W. A. Parinter and Mrs. S. L. Whipple, the committee in charge of the entertainment, are entitled to much credit for the success of the affair.

The young people connected with the Good Templars society held a sociable in Grange hall Saturday night which was pronounced a good time by those present.

In past years we have listened with pride to the words of praise which strangers have bestowed upon our town on account of the beauty of the grounds around many of the residences. Well kept lawns, a profusion of flowers and a general tone of neatness and care have prevailed during the summer months. Although it is early in the season we have already seen enough to convince us that our town will take no backward step along this line the coming summer. Improvement seems to be the order of the day, and it is pleasing to note that so many of our residents are interested in this work.

The ice is out of the big lakes and fishing parties are in order. E. H. Knickerbocker, Dr. A. J. Taylor and E. A. Holmes visited Square lake Saturday and returned today with 8 fish weighing 32 pounds. In the lot were three trout, one land-locked salmon and the others were togue. The members of the party are rejoicing over their success, and state that the lakes are teeming with big fish waiting to be caught.

EASTPORT NEWS.

Big Sardine Trust to Organize at Portland on Wednesday.

Riverside Hotel Under New Management—How Pilgrim Dodge Over the Boundary Line.

[Special to Whig and Courier.]

Eastport, May 9. On May 15th the Riverside will go under new management, and Messrs. Hallett who own and have conducted the hotel since its opening, last July, will retire, and Walter G. Smith the lessee will assume control. Mr. Smith is a native of Whiting, in this county, but now lives in Lowell, Mass. He is a commercial traveler and is well known all along the route through Maine. The Riverside in the year that it has been opened to the public, has been liberally patronized, and as a summer house was very popular with the people who visited the city during last season. The house is handsomely furnished and fitted with all modern conveniences and it is understood Mr. Smith will make some slight changes.

Arbor Day according to the custom of past years will be observed by the schools, which will have a holiday, and the afternoon will be devoted to tree planting on some of the school grounds with appropriate exercises.

Information was received here this morning by S. G. Stevens, the promoter of the sardine syndicate, that the success of the project was assured, and that the capitalists would meet in Portland some time this coming week, probably on Wednesday and organize under the laws of the State. Pending the decision of the men who are to assume the control of the business several of the smaller factories are getting ready to begin operations, and will open their canning shops on Monday morning, in anticipation of the opening of the season on the 10th inst. As yet no herring have been reported and but few weirs have been built.

Oliver W. and Edward Shead arrived here last evening from Boston to attend the funeral of their grandmother, Mrs. Sophia Shead, which took place this afternoon from her late residence on Water street. Rev. T. E. St. John, of the Unitarian church, officiated.

All the machine shops in the city are busy, making the usual spring repairs in the machinery of the factories.

The public library lot on the corner of Water and Roy streets is being put in shape for the summer.

The exterior of the house of Jas. Irwin on High street is being repaired.

The dedication of the First Universalist church in Machias will take place next Thursday and a number will attend from this city. All wishing entertainment will notify Rev. Selden Gilbert, D. D., or Miss Lucy L. Ames of that place.

Nearly all the attorneys who have been in attendance upon the April term of court at Calais have returned home.

Jos. A. Ferris is fitting up the Hallett factory purchased by him a year ago, and will operate it the coming season. A new boiler has been put in and the capacity of the oven increased which will very materially add to its output.

The Sentinel will on Wednesday next publish a map of the railroad route from Perry to the city water front, where the terminus is to be. The map is accompanied by an article descriptive of the route and containing much historical matter relative to parts of the island over which the road passes.

Announcements have been received here of the marriage in Lawrence, Mass., of Rondol Stuart Norwood and Miss Florence Moritt, also of that city. Mr. Norwood is a son of John K. Norwood, a former Eastporter, and is associated with his father in the insurance business. Both father and son have a large circle of friends in this city.

The fleet of small fishing boats are beginning to gather on Cochran's Ledge over which is the imaginary line marking the boundary between America and Canada, and on which is large white buoy. The boats of the two nations quietly throw their lines on their respective sides of the buoy without fear of molestation by the Dominion protective officer, which patrols the waters of the bay.

Of course when the Cutter is about around no special boat is paid to the exact location of the line and it no boats go on either side recording on the fish will bite, but should the officer heave in sight the Americans quickly haul across the line and wait until she has steamed away.

BELIEVED SAMPSON WILL BE VICTORIOUS

Washington, May 9. At today's cabinet meeting the leading subjects of discussion were the measures to be taken to reinforce Admiral Dewey at Manila and the probable movements on Cuba. As to the former there has been no material change in the plans. Approximately five thousand troops will be despatched on the City of Pekin and other transports. The Charleston will return convoy.

The McCulloch has not yet left Mirs Bay, outside Hong Kong harbor, where she is waiting for further instructions from Admiral Dewey, which will be sent probably today or tomorrow. In the cabinet meeting here Saturday the Admiral made no request for troops, but knowing the government's intentions in regard to the occupation of the Philippines, it seems quite certain, however, that the government intends to make an active campaign against the Spanish forces there and Admiral Dewey will be so informed. It is not probable that the squadron will bombard the city nor engage in any active work against the fortifications there except such as the admiral may find necessary in order to retain control of points now in his possession. On the arrival of the expedition which will be immediately embarked from the Pacific coast states it is expected that a landing will be made at once and operations begun to capture the city and reduce the remaining fortifications. In addition to the five thousand troops the transports will delivery out a considerable cargo of supplies including ammunition.

The President and the members of the cabinet are now expecting later news from Admiral Sampson's fleet which was dispatched against Porto Rico. It is believed that he will there will be a complete account of Admiral Dewey at Manila, although it is hardly to be expected that the sequences to his fleet will be of importance. No alarm is felt as to the whereabouts of the Spanish fleet, but certainly is not expected that Admiral Sampson will encounter them at Porto Rico.

As to the plan of campaign in Cuba it is understood that there has been no material change from those heretofore given out. At the present time it is expected that the landing of an adequate force with provisions and munitions for the insurgents will be effected at some easily accessible point, and the active campaign will then begin in the rear as well as from the direction of Havana and other important seaports.

MOVEMENT OF TROOPS

Boston, May 9. There was a lively movement of the Massachusetts troops today aside from those at Framingham as the different detachments of the militia took the stations assigned them along the seaboard of the state.

A detail of the fifth regiment, Co. D of Plymouth, K. of Brockton and Co. Attleboro, passed through this city and embarked at 9.30 on the schooner Gloucester, which they went into camp for eight days. There was a great concentration at the wharf and the soldiers took their departure amid cheering and the tooting of whistles on the tugs and craft.

Two detachments of the artillery cadets went to the station at Point Allerton and Nahant this morning. Company Habeaux and 60 men left the armory at 9.30 and marched to the south station where they took the train for Lynn.

Half an hour later Lieut. Garrison in charge of the detachment for Point Allerton, lined his 40 men up and started for the Knyeland street station where they took a train for the Nahant Beach post.

Company H, of the fifth regiment, started for Plum Island at the mouth of the Merrimac river, during the forenoon.

Valentine, living on the river road, found a lot of clean, white garments in the woods near his house and it is believed they were stolen recently. This is the time of year when this complaint begins to crop out, and it would be well for housewives and servants to haul in their sheets and pillow cases at night.

BELFAST NEWS.

Addition to Belfast Yacht Fleet—Dewey Celebration—Notes of the City—Funeral of B. C. Dinsmore.

[Special to Whig and Courier.]

Belfast, May 9. Only one new yacht will be added to the Belfast fleet this coming summer. This yacht is now being finished by Mr. G. O. Hatch at his home on Northport avenue. She is Mr. Hatch's own design and is considered by many our large racing yachts and on the same general lines of the Dorrow yacht "Glide," with the exception that she has more beam and less keel. Mr. Hatch has worked on this yacht during the winter months, getting out his own lumber and doing all the work himself. He intends the yacht for his own use. The dimensions are as follows: 31 feet over all, beam 11 feet, draft 5 feet. The cabin is 10 feet long and is all enough for an ordinary man to stand upright. The sail spread will be about 700 yards. The sails are now being made by N. S. Lord & Co., of this city. Mr. Hatch expects to have her ready to launch by the first of June.

Who says Belfast cannot celebrate when she takes a notion? Saturday night there were demonstrations over Dewey's confirmed victory over the Spanish fleet at Manila. The Belfast band was out and paraded the streets, and it seemed as if every person in town was out by the time on the sidewalks. No such crowd has turned out since the celebration over President McKinley's election. Fire-works, fire-crackers and red fire were touched off and places of business were decorated with bunting and flags. It is hoped Belfast will have occasion to celebrate for Sampson and his fleet.

The funeral of the late B. C. Dinsmore took place from his home Monday afternoon. It was largely attended by the friends and fellow business men of this city, by whom he was held in great esteem. The floral contributions were many and very beautiful. The services were conducted by Rev. C. H. Wells, of the Universalist church, of which the deceased was a member.

The repairs and improvements which Editor Pillsbury has made on his house on Northport avenue adds much to the appearance of the place.

Steamer Castine took a party of fishermen down the bay Sunday in quest of deep water fish, but the weather was so rough that only a few fish were caught, many of the party not wetting a line.

Arbor Day will not be observed by the city schools as heretofore, but the schools will be in session as usual. This is on account of extra work which the teachers have on hand to get in readiness for the county convention, which meets here the 20th and other work.

A large number of the students went to the station to act as escort. The boys were in good spirits, and all entertained hopes of passing the examination.

The following seniors who have gone to war are: Commencement Speaker Johnson, Libby, A. D. T., Libby, E. I., Merrill, O. T. and White. Taft, counting on the resignation of Mr. Gibbs, only three of the appointed speakers remain. There is some talk of deferring graduating exercises. The seniors held a class meeting that night to take action on the matter.

Hard work is being done by the nine on the track team, and every man shows up in excellent form.

The senior-junior base ball game last Saturday resulted in a victory for the seniors, the score being 9 to 7.

Private Jack P. Lorkhart of Hampden, a member of company G, of Bangor, is at home from the campground at Augusta on a few days furlough.

Rev. A. A. Dunn, D. D., of Waterville, will be in Bangor Sunday and will preach at one of the Baptist churches.

Pain

If you want teeth extracted, remember our Vitalized Air is the only anæsthetic that makes it absolutely and positively painless in every case. We have used it in over 100,000 cases in the last five years, and always with perfect satisfaction.

Small children, aged people, delicate and nervous people may come to us with absolute confidence that they will not be hurt in the least, no matter how bad their teeth may be. A painless operation is the one thing everybody most desires in extracting teeth; and freedom from pain is no more essential than the use of antiseptically clean instruments, which prevent any possibility of infection. This means safe dentistry, and safe dentistry is the kind you want.

has become a science with us. We go right and cleansed over 4 million yards of carpet and rugs in the past years, and believe we know how to do the work right. We cleanse carpets thoroughly and do not tear or injure them. We have large Dust-proof and a large modern Vacuum Machine to do the work swiftly and well. No long waits while we do the cleaning.
Carpets cannot be well cleansed on the floors. Applications of water or paint washes may brighten the surface for a while, but there's lots of dust and dirt that stays beneath. Safest way is to get up your carpet and make it clean throughout.

(Special to Whig and Courier.)

Foxcroft, May 9. E. H. Monroe has purchased a fine pair of driving horses that have attracted considerable attention. They are coal black in color, and were purchased of Charles J. Chase, of Sebec mills.

Rev. H. Hooper, of the Universalist Missionary Society, preached at the Universalist church in Dover Sunday forenoon.

At the Methodist church Sunday forenoon Rev. J. H. Hawks preached his first sermon to a crowded house and many words of praise for the new pastor were heard.

Rev. Manley B. Townsend, of the Universalist church, preached in Sangerville and Milo Sunday forenoon and returned home this morning.

The first session of the Penobscot Valley Adventist Christ in conference will be held at the Second Advent church in Dover Thursday evening, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. There will be three services on the forenoon, afternoon and evening, each day and Sunday afternoon at 1.30 there will be baptism in the cove. Although no special program has been arranged the services will be made interesting to all who may attend. It is expected that quite a number of preachers from other parts of the State will be present.

George Morecroft, who for several months has been working in Roxbury, Mass., is working in W. P. Rathbard's planing mill.

G. G. Beem, the Union Square artist, has taken some fine pictures of the Methodist Episcopal chorus choir.

"The Foxcroft Courier" is the name of a neat six column four page paper that has just been published for Messrs. Buck and Nickerson.

James Crafton, a noted horseman from Cumberland Mills, is in town looking for horses. We have not learned of any purchases made as yet.

The Academy ball team met with a defeat at Charleston Saturday but hope things will be vice versa when the return game is played at the Pleasantus Central Park, with the Higgins Classical Institute boys.

Mrs. C. O. Whidden went to Orono to join her husband who has been appointed pastor of the M. E. church at that place. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Whidden sincerely regret their departure and wish them success in their new field of labor.

ELLSWORTH NEWS.

Steam Dredge Arrives to Clear Union River Channel.

Death of Charles W. Waugatt—Cattle Ate Nails, With Fatal Effect—News Notes.

(Special to Whig and Courier.)

Ellsworth, May 9. The steam dredge which the government has promised to send to the city for the removal of the stickings and mud from Orion river channel arrived in the bay Sunday, escorted by a couple of tugs and a row scow, the latter to be used in the work. The dredger is now anchored in one of the coves in the upper part of the bay. Operations will not be begun until engineers arrive from Portland. It is thought the first scow load will be taken out next week. The obtaining of the governmental appropriation of $15,000 for a first dredging is due to the efforts of the Ellsworth board of trade.

Charles W. Waugatt, a West Ellsworth man, aged 63 years, died on Mt. Desert Saturday. Mr. Waugatt was prominent in his community and his death is to be regretted. He leaves a son at Bar Harbor, Vernon G. Waugatt, and another, Roland Waugatt, who is in the employ of the government at the Kittery navy yard. The funeral services will be held tomorrow at West Ellsworth.

Schooners Wesley Abbott, Capt. Redman, and Sarah A. Hildreth, Capt. Ferrell, arrived from Boston on Sunday.

The first Cuban flags were given to the breeze in this city on Sunday by members of the Dirigo Athletic club. The club, by the way, was also the first to display the stars and stripes from its windows after the declaration of war with Spain.

Embry Carter, of East Blue Hill, lost two heifers last week in a somewhat possible way. The cattle were pastured near the seashore where an old sailor's chest had been hauled up and left on the beach. Either the paint or the nails in it convinced the animals that at daybreak on the 1st of May and immediately engaged the entire Spanish fleet of eleven ships, which were under the protection of the fire of the land forts. After a stubborn fight, in which this enemy suffered great loss, these vessels were destroyed or completely disabled, and the water battery at Cavite silenced. Of our brave officers and men not one was lost and only eight injured, these slightly. All of our ships escaped any serious damage.

By the 4th of May Commodore Dewey had taken possession of the naval station at Cavite, destroying the fortifications there and at the entrance of the bay, and paralyzing their guns. The waters of the bay are under his complete control. He has established a hospital within the American lines, where two hundred and fifty of the Spanish sick and wounded are housed and protected.

The magnitude of this victory can hardly be measured by the ordinary standards of naval warfare. Outweighing any material advantage is the moral effect of this brilliant success. At this unsurpassed achievement the great heart of the nation throbs, not with boasting or with greed of conquest, but with deep gratitude that this triumph has come in a just cause and that by the grace of God an effective step has thus been taken toward the attainment of the wished-for peace.

To those whose skill, courage and devotion have won this fight, to the gallant commander and the brave officers and men who aided him, our country owes an ineffaceable debt.

Feeling, as our people feel, and speaking in their name, I at once sent a message to Commodore Dewey thanking him and his officers and men for their splendid achievement and overwhelming victory, and informing him that I had appointed him an acting rear admiral.

I now recommend that following our national precedents and expressing the fervent gratitude of every patriotic heart, the thanks of Congress be given Acting Rear Admiral George Dewey, of the United States navy, for highly distinguished conduct in conflict with the enemy and to the officers and men under his command for their gallantry in the destruction of the enemy's fleet and the capture of the enemy's forts and batteries in the bay of Manila.

REAR ADMIRAL DEWEY.

Resolution of Thanks Given Him by Congress.

Senator Hale and Representative Boutelle Confer With President.

Washington, May 9. Senator Hale and Representative Boutelle, chairman of the Senate and House committees on naval affairs, were called to the White House during the cabinet meeting to consider the resolution of thanks recommended in the President's message. They spent but a few moments, and the two chairmen subsequently met at the capitol and decided on the form of legislation for making Commodore Dewey a rear admiral, to be introduced simultaneously. The congressional resolution is as follows:

"Joint resolution tendering the thanks of Congress to Commodore Dewey, U. S. N., and to the officers and men of the squadron under his command.

"Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, that in pursuance of the recommendation of the President, made in accordance with the provisions of section 1103 of the revised statutes, the thanks of Congress and of the American people are hereby tendered to Commodore George Dewey, U. S. N., commander-in-chief of the Asiatic station, for highly distinguished conduct in conflict with the enemy as displayed by him in the destruction of the Spanish fleet and batteries in the harbor of Manila, Philippine Islands, May 1, 1898.

"Section 2. That the thanks of Congress and the American people are hereby extended through Commodore Dewey to the officers and men under his command, for the gallantry and skill exhibited by them on that occasion.

"Section 3. Be it further resolved that the President of the United States be requested to cause this resolution to be communicated to Commodore Dewey and through him to the officers and men under his command."

PRESS OF BUSINESS.

Washington, May 9. The President today sent the following message to Congress:

To the Congress of the United States:

On the 24th of April I directed the secretary of the navy to telegraph orders to Commodore Geo. Dewey of the United States navy, commanding the Asiatic squadron, then lying at the port of Hong Kong, to proceed forthwith to the Philippine Islands, there to commence operations and engage the assembled Spanish fleet. Promptly obeying the order, the United States squadron consisting of the flagship Olympia, Baltimore, Raleigh, Boston, Concord and Petrel, with the revenue cutter McCulloch, one auxiliary despatch boat entered the harbor of Manila at daybreak on the 1st of May and immediately engaged the entire Spanish fleet of eleven ships, which were under the protection of the fire of the land forts. After a stubborn fight, in which this enemy suffered great loss, these vessels were destroyed or completely disabled, and the water battery at Cavite silenced. Of our brave officers and men not one was lost and only eight injured, these slightly. All of our ships escaped any serious damage.

By the 4th of May Commodore Dewey had taken possession of the naval station at Cavite, destroying the fortifications there and at the entrance of the bay, and paralyzing their guns. The waters of the bay are under his complete control. He has established a hospital within the American lines, where two hundred and fifty of the Spanish sick and wounded are housed and protected.

The magnitude of this victory can hardly be measured by the ordinary standards of naval warfare. Outweighing any material advantage is the moral effect of this brilliant success. ARRIVAL OF NEW RECRUITS.

Va. Collins, of Portland, Accepted and is Given a Rousing Reception—Many Anxious to Enlist.

Augusta, May 9. The feature of today at Camp Powers was the arrival of recruits, and the second and third rumor is high that Colonel Fairbrook had resigned the command of the second. Of the latter report, those in authority say "preposterous," "in statuquo."

Today 175 recruits arrived. Three hundred are needed to complete the First regiment. Three companies have 100 men each, I, G and H.

Co. I was the first to fill the quota, but will not attain senior rank in consequence. Co. I is to have that distinction.

Thirty-six students came down from the University of Maine, of whom Co. H has 24 and D 14.

Two hundred and seventeen men were examined today and of these 68 were rejected. The total number examined is 1,63; total rejected 534.

Five officers have been mustered in. The mustering will begin on Tuesday.

Word comes from several places tonight of men wanting to enlist. Among others twelve men of Newport took service.

Maj. Collins, of Portland, who failed to pass the physical examination, has finally been accepted and was given a rousing reception at camp this evening. His battalion, with the First Regiment Band, paraded on him. Speeches were made and the prize of the first were given the liberty of the camp.

THE STOCK MARKET.

New York, May 9. Probably today's stock market owed its firmness and at some points its strength to the extraordinary course of events in the wheat market.

With May wheat selling in this market at $1.00 a bu before the middle of the month, and with the July option almost keeping pace with it, there is assured a house of abundant increase of wealth for this country.

The outbreaks of violence and of bloodshed in Italy and Spain, on account of the dearness of bread and the advance in price for that necessity at other points in Europe, are only too convincing evidence that the high prices for wheat are not due to speculative manipulation, but to the urgent need of foreign consumers.

There was, besides, positive depression in some of the stocks which are usually most prominent in the market.

There was a hulking tendency manifested in some of the granges. Rock Island showed the most notable strength of an railroad stock and St. Paul was also quite sustained.

The day's business was the heaviest since last fall, the total sales of all stocks reaching 620,000 shares. A feature of the day was the sharp advance in sterling exchange.

The bond market shared in the activity of the stock market and was strong throughout. Total sales 3,170,000. U. S. new 4s advanced ¾, the 5s and the old 4s each ½ on the call, and the old 4s registered ¼ at the bid price. There were sales of the new 4s coupon at 123¾, an advance of 3¼ over the last sale.

SAGASTA HAS PORTFOLIOS

Madrid, May 9. 2 P. M. It is rumored here this afternoon that the cabinet ministers have placed their portfolios in the hands of Senor Sagasta, the premier, with a view of a probable reconstruction of the ministry.

NEARLY EVERY MAN VOLUNTEERED.

Boston, May 9. The first heavy draft by Maj. A. M. encamped at Fort Warren, Boston, was formally mustered in to the United States service this morning at 9.30.

It is understood that nearly every man in the regiment volunteered his services. The regiment will remain on duty at Fort Warren.

The little Dutch boy who stopped the leak in the dike with his finger saved his country from overwhelming destruction. You have read about him in your school readers, how he was walking along the dike when he heard a faint sound of trickling water, and knew at once that a leak had sprung in that great embankment which saves Holland from the devastations of the hungry sea. It was early in the night, and no one was near at hand. The leak was small when he found it, but he knew that the action of the water would enlarge it long before morning, and wash away the entire embankment, inundate the country and destroy his own and thousands of homes. So he bravely put his finger in the crevasse, and kept it there all the long night through, until help came and the opening was properly stopped. He had saved his country.

Equally insignificant is the entrance of disease into the human system. The beginnings of the most terrible ailments are so small they can be easily stopped at the start. Your health is a dike which keeps out and stops the inroads of dangerous and devastating diseases. Whenever it breaks down, no matter how slightly, there is an opening for disease to enter. If the opening is not watched, it will grow larger until the sweep of disease overwhelms you, and health and perhaps life is destroyed forever.

Fortify your health with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you can defy illness. This can make your health so strong a bulwark that disease cannot find a weak place through which it can creep. Taken in time, Dr. Pierce's remedies prevent greater and more serious troubles. Hundreds write daily to Dr. Pierce, telling him how these remedies have saved them and made them strong.

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is speedily cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

SUN DOESN'T SET ON AMERICAN SOIL

Now the Sun's Shining on Stars and Stripes at Manila When It Rises in Maine.

Not since Commodore Dewey practically took possession of the Philippine Islands has the sun set on American territory. When the Englishman boasted that the sun never set on English soil, and asked a Frenchman to account for it the man of France said it was because the Lord was afraid to trust Englishmen in the dark. The explanation in America's case is that by her recent acquisition of the Philippine Islands the sun rises on some part of American possessions before it sets on some other.

When the attention of Prof. John K. Rose of Columbia University was called to this new condition of political geography, the astronomer said that he had not had time to figure out exactly at what time it could rise and set on the eastern and western boundary points of American territory. The differences in latitude between the Philippine Islands in the tropics and Alaska in the Arctic Circle made it impossible, he said, to tell at a glance what margin the sun had in rising on one part of American soil before setting in another. Then the Professor went to a big globe map of the world and twirled it around to get a bird's-eye view of Uncle Sam's complete domain.

"The widest stretch," said the Professor, "I from the time the sun leaves the Philippine Islands on its westward course until it is prized up in Maine rising from the east. The distance longitudinally measured in this way, that is, from the far East around westwardly, is about 180 deg. or a little over half a circle. The time between the two points is approximately 12 hours and 24 minutes. As the days in this latitude are now about twenty hours long, the sun does not set in the Philippines the morning, at this time of year, if Commodore Dewey has captured the Philippines, the sun is always shining on some part of the American possessions.

"In winter it will be different, unless the conditions are altered. On the shortest day in winter, Dec. 21 or 22, the sun in this latitude shines approximately only eight hours. At the difference in time between the Philippines and Maine is a little over twelve hours, the sun could not rise in Maine in the winter time before it had set in the Philippine Islands. If we took into consideration the dawn preceding the actual rising of the sun and the twilight following its setting, it would be safe to say that even in winter, with the possession of the Philippines, there would always be daylight on some part of American land."

"To be perfectly sure that the sun never set on American soil we would have to capture the Canary Islands, would we not?" was asked.

"Geographically and astronomically the capture of the Canary Islands would solve the problem for all seasons," said Prof. Rose, "although I do not wish to be understood to be advocating any of these things politically. The Canaries lie about 15 deg. west from Greenwich and the Philippines are about 120 deg. east, or 135 deg. apart, which is equal to nine hours' time.

"Allowing for the difference in length of day in the tropics and in the temperate zone the sun would always rise on the Canaries before setting on the Philippines even in the shortest day of the year.

"Then to be thoroughly English, you know, we would have the Canaries for winter purposes," suggested a member of the class in astronomy.

"If it is only for the purpose of being English we had better not include the Canaries when Spain settles up with us," said the professor.

"If the Philippine Islands as part of the United States, not to mention the Canary Islands, which, it is contended, we should seize and hold as a transatlantic coaling station, it will be difficult to designate the geographical centre of the country. When from three to three hundred years ago the question of moving the capital of the United States to a more central place came up in Congress long arguments were made as to what was the geographical centre of the Union. Some members from the Middle Western States thought the capital should be shifted to St. Louis, others to Kansas City and some even to Chicago, because these three cities were nearer to the geographical centre than was Washington.

"One member from the far West sunbathed at their arguments to smithereens by showing that when we took into consideration the territory of Alaska, whose islands extend westward nearly as the 1700 deg. from Greenwich, the geographical centre of the United States would be in the Pacific ocean many miles from land, and that San Francisco was the only large city near the imaginary geographical centre.

"When we have dried up our new lands and bought us a new globe upon which to record them, it may be found that Washington is still not the geographical centre, if the Union, as is practicable, and then, if there are now any Congressmen who desire to move the national capital, they will have to find some other pretext upon which to base their bills. With the capture and purchase of new lands in various parts of the globe it will be hard to keep the geographical centre of the Union stationary."

The only two large acquisitions of American soil now are from the Philippines east to Manila on the west and from the Aleutian Islands of Alaska on the west to the Philippines on the east. From the Philippines to Maine is 130 deg. or 1 hours and 24 minutes difference in time. From the Alaskan Aleutians to the Philippines is 70 deg. or 4 hours and 40 minutes, amply covered by the sun both in summer and in winter.

With the possession of the Charles the gap of water between the Canaries on the east and Maine on the west will be only about 60 deg. or 3 hours and 20 minutes, and the gap between the Canaries and the Philippines will be 135 deg. or 9 hours.

Opposite the phenomena of nature, including the inclination of the earth's axis of 23½ degrees, the sun shines on northern Alaska for twenty-two hours a day in summer, and on the difference in time between the eastern and western coasts of the main part of the United States is three hours, for several weeks in the summer the sun never sets on American soil, even without counting the Philippines as an acquisition.

But this condition is modified by the shortening of the day in Alaska. To be sure that there will always be daylight on American soil the Philippine Islands are necessary and to be sure that the sun will never set on American land, the possession of the Canaries would be highly desirable.

NOTES

Cornell and Pennsylvania are out of the rowing still not meet Yale on the football field this year unless Yale's schedule is changed. There will be no games in New York next fall.

The loss of a number of Yale athletes by ineligibility for the year will mean the Blue's chances, according to Keene, a trick in the dual meet with Harvard.

The steam launch which President Frank Thomson of the Pennsylvania Railroad has had built by the Cramps for the Harvard University crew is now on its way to Cambridge.

Peter Maher has posted his forfeit to meet Jeffries or Shinkey in the Tom Palace in June under the auspices of the Broadway Athletic Club, managed by Tom O'Rourke.

Tim Daly thinks that Kid McCoy is holding Gus Ruhlin at too cheaper valuation. McCoy, however, can be depended upon to make his appearance in the ring in condition fit enough to battle with Bob Fitzsimmons. He has never yet neglected the work of training.

The Chicago Athletic Association will send a team to this city in June to compete in the swimming championship of the A. A. U. to be held under the auspices of the New York Athletic Club. The men who are expected to represent Chicago are: Paul Newman, now at the University of Pennsylvania; Walter Brand, the holder of the Booth cup; Donald Hawthorne, of California, and George Wieland.

It has been decided by E. S. Moffat, chairman of the University track team of Columbia, to hold the annual games with Cornell at Berkeley Oval on May 21. Much satisfaction is expressed at the determination to continue the Columbia track team even if it does not make the desired good showing.

Joe Goddard intends to go to the Klondike.

At the recent Australian cricket contest the total attendance was 20,000.

George Schimmerich wants to box Martin Rich or any other 118-pound man. His address is 237 Twenty-seventh street, Brooklyn.

Watches will be the prizes for the winning athletes at the Memorial day games of the Brooklyn Athletic Club.

"There is no John," says Fred Fox, who has a better right to claim a make with the winner of the Dixon-Corbett match than Joe Hopkins. Withdrawn contests with Martin Flaherty and his defeats of such men as Larry Becker, Joe Youngs and Tommy Hogan entitle him to a chance against the winner at 125 pounds."

"The jealousy among trainers of college athletes is so pronounced that at times," says a well known athlete, "it becomes amusing. I never yet saw a trainer of these trainers that a fourth, who was not in the neighborhood, had not become the victim of a roast. The more successful a trainer is in locating a comfortable berth, the more enmity he succeeds in arousing, and his work is made the basis of criticism of the most gentle character. Ask one of them if he knows a trainer and the chances are that he will reply, 'Yes, I do. He's a nice fellow, but—' and then the roast follows."

It has been decided by the Executive Committee of the Intercollegiate Athletic Association to invite the following men to act as officers in the field, track and cycle championship to be contested at Berkeley Oval on May 27 and 28: Referee, William B. Curtis; announcer, F. S. Truant; clerk of course, John J. Dixon; assistant clerk of course, W. Bostwick; L. B. Sharp, W. Scott and J. F. Norton; inspectors, G. F. Kerby, Chas. Whitney, C. E. Patterson and G. H. Magee; judges at finish, J. E. Sullivan, B. S. Weeks, J. H. Booth and W. J. Swan; judge of walking, Sam Austin; measurers of hammer and shot, A. A. Murbey, Cyril Robinson and P. T. Abbott; inspectors of pole vault, H. H. Baxter, J. P. Dooling and E. P. Keane; official reporter, A. S. Quinn; scorer for hammer and shot, J. Hardee; scorer for hammer, W. Bauer; scorer for pole vault, E. W. Ruhlen; scorers for track events, E. C. Carter and W. B. Dickey; starter, S. D. Lee; timekeepers, M. Bishop, H. Stoll, H. J. Wendel and O. C. Hughes.

Dr. Sargent of Harvard, has announced the records of the fifty strongest men in the university, made by gymnasium work, the system arranged by him and which will be adopted this fall by the leading universities in the United States. The points are reckoned as follows: The number of kilos lifted with the back and legs straight, and the number of kilos lifted with the legs bent, added to the strength of the grip of the right and left hands (expiratory power is tested by the spirometer), and one-tenth the weight in kilos, multiplied by the number of times that the person can raise his weight by dipping between the parallel bars and pulling his weight up to touch on the rings. The average his year has fallen off somewhat from that of last year. Last year forty men made strength tests of over 1,000. This year only twenty-six have passed the mark. The best record last year was made by A. Lovering, '98, with 1,052. The best record this year was made by C. F. Herbert, 1900, with 1,050.3. The other high records of the first four men on this year's list have made records which place them among the ten strongest men in the university since 1880: 1900, with 17, has the largest number of times on the list, '99 has 1, '98, 6, 1901, 5, L. S., 5; Sp. 5; M. 8.

Tom Shankey's stand before the Jeffries fight on the heavy weight championship is: "As soon as I am through with Jeffries I am going to post $5000 where they can all get it and any heavyweight in the world, black, white, red, yellow, or any other color, who can match my deposit, can have a fight. I am not going to pick marks. I'm going first served, clean to the end, till none remain to meet me or I am whipped. That is the way I going after the championship. It is, I am confident, the only way to make any professional believe I really mean to fight or acknowledge me to be the world's heavyweight champion before I am through."

All the fighters who have a claim to the championship title, in addition to the aspirants of Benjamin Jordan, the 27-year-old English featherweight, who has been called the world-beater because he has defeated a few men of the second grade in long-drawn-out contests. There is nothing in Jordan's record which tends to prove that he is a world-beater, except the fact that he has won his contests. Up to 1897 he had defeated ten English boxers who are not known outside the United Kingdom. Last year he jumped to the front by winning from Fred Johnson in thirteen rounds, Tommy White in eighteen rounds and Eddie Corry in eighteen rounds. But how time tests a record appears when compared with that of Dixon and men who chase in the memorious second feather weight days on in this country. It is safe to prophesy that if Jordan ventures to visit this country and makes matches at even weights he will be soundly thrashed.

MUSICAL NOTES AND STAGE TOPICS.

Mrs. Marian Van Duyn, who has a fine voice, will, with the assistance of Mr. Vim York, give a concert at the Waldorf-Astoria next Wednesday evening. The Kalfenborn-Boyer-Hinze quartette will also be heard.

"The Wedding Day," with Lillian Russell, Della Fox, and De Angelis in the cast, will remain one more week at the Broadway Theatre, New York.

"Lady Bess," by Julian Jordan, was performed at the Herald Square Theatre on Monday afternoon. The receipts are to be devoted to the relief of the families of members of the National Guard as necessity demands.

The Casino at New York is now making a specialty of revivals. The "Lady Slavey" will continue till May 23, when "The Whirl of the Town" will be reproduced again.

Josef Hofmann's farewell in this country will be concert with orchestra in Carnegie Hall on Sunday evening, May 15. He will play two concertos, Rubinstein's D minor and the E minor by Chopin, besides a group of short pieces.

Rosenthal gave four piano recitals in London the past month to crowded houses. It was his first appearance since his illness, which cut short his tour in this country last year. During May he plays in Italy and Switzerland and after the summer's rest will return in the early fall to America for an extended tour.

"The Circus Girl" at New York continues to attract large and enthusiastic audiences, and in all probability will run there until the end of Mr. Daly's season, when it is to be transferred to Hoyley's Theatre, Chicago, for a summer run.

Musical festivals are now going merrily, that at Albany having just begun. Burlington, Vt., is to hear a great variety of choral music, from Barbara Fritchie to "Samson and Delila," in a festival opening on May 16. Rossini's "Stabat Mater" will be sung in Pittsburg, Pa., on the following night; St. Johnsbury joins the spring celebration on May 19, while on May 25 the chorus will sing from Holyoke, Mass., to Albion, Mich. It has been a good season for the multitude of festival soloists.

"For a really foolish opinion on music," remarks Edward Baughan, in the London Musical Standard, "consult one of a literary faddist. Of course Poloto has been bored by the usual chatter of irresponsible Wagnerians, who prate of Beyreuth silence and the rest of all that. The Russian novelist is probably not musical. Tolstoi is the latest literary recruit of distinction to join the ranks of anti-Wagnerians. He has seen 'Siegfried,' and that settled the matter. He wrote, he said, that Wagner's works could only be appreciated amid the concealed orchestra, and other conditions of Bayreuth, and, therefore, he criticises the Wagner cause from species of medical rheumatism. Spiritualists, he says, hold the same argument, for they aver that you are not able to give an opinion if you have not been present at séances and manifestations. In other words, Tolstoi says, 'you must pass some fifty hours in the company of people half asleep and put the experiment a dozen times, and you will see what they see.' No such conditions are these one sees who one likes. But there is a much simpler method of arriving at the same result. You have only to drink alcohol or smoke opium."

Italian opera as presented by a company of strolling singers will really hail from Italy has been promised for New York this spring, and now just the attraction is in sight. The gentlemen engaged first associated themselves together in Milan and, we are told, "in the City of Mexico. There, it is said, they had a profitable season. Next they spent a month in San Francisco, and the performances were even more of a novelty in the States than they had been in Mexico, for Spanish America is a fruitful field for Italian dramatic enterprise. With several changes of name from the original title of Del Carte Bianca Company, the operatic organization has worked its way across the continent in good-old-fashioned style. It will be seen at Wallack's on May 16, and its name is now Bugneto Opera Company. Old Italian operas rarely heard here are included in its repertory. For the first week there will be Verdi's "Un Ballo," and the same composer's new work, "Mason Lescaut," and more familiar "I Pagliacci" will also be heard.

The war and weather are temporary depressing influences on the retail bicycle trade.

"Position," says a trainer of racing cyclists, "is everything. One of the chief difficulties of the racing chick before getting down to regular training is to be sure that he is riding in such a position that he can get every ounce of speed out of the machine without wriggling, etc. The quickest a man sits on his bicycle, the easier is it to propel. Saddles, handlebars, reach, etc., should all be experimented with, and when the rider finds out the best position, he should screw that the respective nuts, and let them remain for his season. It is also as well to mind the measurements as to reach, and so on, so that if by chance a new or fresh mount is ridden the exact position can be obtained."

"There are few cyclists," says a rider, "who understand how to load the tool bag properly, and yet it is important in order to utilize the limited space and save annoyance and delay. Take a strip of cloth as wide as the bag is long, or if the cloth is thin have it twice as wide and fold it. Take that article which you are most likely to need and roll it once over in the cloth, then add another article and roll the cloth around the whole, leaving the wrench until last for the last. Use the lining a piece of cloth as possible without overcrowding the bag. This method insures tools against rattling and wearing against each other. Each article usually needed on a trip is thus placed in the order it is likely to be called for and saves the worry of the necessity of unwrapping all the articles in order to find one, as each can be pulled out separately from its place in the cloth."

Fairfield, of the Norway company, who is also a student at the university. The recruits will probably be mustered into the Norway, Rockland and Portland companies to fill vacancies made by the rejection of the soldiers by the surgeons. Several men from Oldtown, Stillwater and Orono and one Bangor man, Amos Stockwell, also went as recruits. At the station the student soldiers were given the varsity yell, and a salute of three rousing cheers was tried.

NANSEN.

Interesting Lecture by Miss Mary

The lecture on Nansen by Miss Mary [illegible] in the parlors of French street church Monday evening was enjoyed by a good audience, which was treated to an excellent description of the life and achievements of the great Arctic explorer.

Miss McCobb was presented to the audience by the pastor, Rev. John McGaw Foster, in a few graceful words.

Miss McCobb spoke of Nansen as a man of indomitable courage, persistent and free. She said that it is the hero who is cheerful in privation and who makes the best of untoward circumstances.

Mention was made of the ancestors of Nansen, fine, strong men and women, and leaders, and then a sketch of his youth, with its athletic training on snow shoes and long and dangerous tramps over snowy mountains and glaciers, was given. This sort of life developed Nansen's muscle and courage.

He was a good student and made zoology a special study, while the result that later on he became curator of a museum and was given the degree of Doctor for his researches and able writings.

Beginning with his first voyage to Greenland in 1882, the speaker described his various journeys to the frozen north in a most realistic and interesting manner. The lecture was much appreciated by the audience for its excellent quality.

ANGLING SEASON ON.

Sporting Camps are Ready for Visitors.

(Special to Whig and Courier.)

Ashland, Me., May 9. The angling season is on. The ice is out of Portage lake and all bodies of water in this vicinity. The proprietors of sporting camps are all ready to receive company. They have commenced to arrive, and large parties are expected this week.

There are many more parties coming here this year than usual. The fine exhibit made by sportsmen at the sportsmen's show in Boston in March and the superior skill shown by the Aroostook guides in handling a canoe and in marksmanship not only gave them first prize but won them many friends who are coming into this region for the first time.

Parties who have come here for years are coming in large numbers. With the opening of the B. & A. railroad the running time between Boston and Ashland is only thirteen hours and three fourths in parlor cars.

The proprietors of sporting camps and guides all say that deer, moose and all game have wintered well as they express it and are looking for a prosperous season.

The writer had a pleasant interview with William H. McNally, of this town, who was deputy marshal from '61 to '65. Mr. McNally is now 76 years old but is hale and hearty and as vigorous as the average man at 50. He is much interested in war matters and is ready to recruit a regiment if needed. He has many friends in Bangor.

There is plenty of water for driving purposes and the lumbermen are happy.

This part of the state seems to please the wealthy people from other states in the union. At Portage lake, ten miles from here, one of the beauty spots of Maine, Dr. Hyland, of New York, a retired navy surgeon, and Prof. Nichols, of Harvard University have erected elegant summer homes at Oak Point, a charming site. D. O. Orcutt, of this town, has several unique cottages. There is a small steamer on the lake, canoes, rowboats, etc., and besides the beautiful scenery there is excellent angling and hunting.

COURIER CANNON SHOTS.

The United States can now boast that her gun never sets on her flag all since the stars and stripes were unfurled in the Philippines. When the sun rises in Manila it has not yet set in Manila. Quite English, you know.

It is probable that, like all great men, Dewey will have a clear shaved face after his Manila clean most likely.

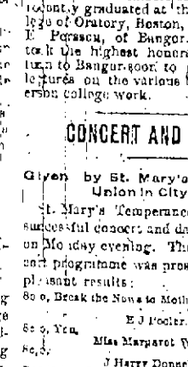
The only torpedo boat destroyer Dewey had with him at Manila was in the shape of guns. One shot sank an advancing torpedo boat.

"We was Rejected," from the oratorio of "The Volunteer," as sung at Camp Powers:

"Though we were rejected
We do not feel dejected,
For it couldn't be expected
That all would stand the grind;
So we're going home tomorrow
More in happiness than sorrow,
And disdain the fuss of Morro
Who the girls we left behind."

When it is considered that it costs about $2,000 to fire an ordinary gun on a modern battleship it is folly to imagine

TUMOR EXPELLED.
Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
MRS. ELIZABETH WHITLOCK, Magnolia, Iowa, in the following letter describes her recovery from a very critical condition:
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been taking your Vegetable Compound, and am now ready to sound its praises. It has done wonders for me in relieving me of a tumor.
"My health has been poor for three years. Change of life was working upon me. I was very much bloated and was a burden to myself. Was troubled with smothering spells, also palpitation of the heart and that bearing-down feeling, and could not be on my feet much. I was growing worse all the time, until I took your medicine.
"After taking three boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Lozenges, the tumor passed from me. My health has been better ever since. I can now walk quite a distance and am troubled no more with palpitation of the heart or bloating. I recommend your medicine to all sufferers from female troubles."
It is hardly reasonable to suppose that any one can doubt the efficiency of Mrs. Pinkham's methods and medicine in the face of the testimonials volume of testimony.



For blackheads and pimples, H. A. Moore, of Fayetteville, N. C., says: "My wife used Cuticura Soap with the greatest satisfaction for blackheads and pimples, and I can recommend it to all who suffer from these troubles."

Hip! the fort for I am coming, says Uncle Sam with his face turned toward the Far East.

When there is a delay on Bangor's electric lines these days the up-to-date complaint is that old Belmont down Joy is interrupted. It's a way they have in the Bangor street railway.

Society note: May, thus far has been noted for the unusual number of engagements—mostly naval.

It was Mahdi on Sunday. It might be Morro tomorrow. Who knows?

that the Spanish will waste the afternoon on demolishing a $1,000 seashore cottage on Maine's coast.

The much abused mule will cut quite a figure in the war in Cuba and hundreds of these Kentucky kickers are among the munitions of war being shipped from Key West. The naval officers will only have to point a cargo of them against a Spanish warship and the mules will kick daylight into them.

The following are the market prices prevailing in Cuba and should interest Bangor people who are objecting to paying the present prices: Potatoes, 12 cents a pound, chickens $2.50 each, eggs 90 cents per dozen, condensed milk 60 cents per can, beans 15 cents per pound, ham 35 cents per pound, rice 12 cents per pound, corned beef 25 cents per pound, salt pork 60 cents per pound, coffee 35 cents per pound, milk 80 cents per quart, kerosene $1 per gallon, fresh meat $1.50 per pound. At the above rate Klondike prices are not so frightful after all.

Wheat is quoted at $1.70 a bushel. No wonder that Willie Bryan wants to join the army.

War is a great teacher of geography. Now any man you meet can tell you just how far it is from the Philippine islands to Hong Kong, Madrid, Havana or San Francisco, as well as pointing out the most direct route from Tampa, Florida, to any port in the world.

What's the matter with Bangor getting a move on herself and celebrating Dewey victory? Staid old Belfast down on the coast did herself proud in that direction Saturday night. Are we not patriotic? Powder is cheap and red fire don't cost much. Remember the Maine.

Some of "Teddy" Roosevelt's cowboys took their dress suit cases, gall stockings and patent leather pumps with them. They evidently expect to play golf on the Havana links and dance at Blanco's palace.

People who like personally conducted excursions will find a new field in Cuba with insurgents as conductors.

ENJOYABLE OUTING OF THE NIBEN CLUB.

Annual Meeting of Club and Social Gathering at Lake Pushaw On Monday.

THE ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Improvements About The Club House---Rules For The Bicycle Path---Notes.

The annual meeting of the Niben Club was held at the fine clubhouse at Lake Pushaw on Monday afternoon and the fact of having the meeting on there proved a good one. A large number wheeled out the bicycle path and many drove out. Owing to the high wind from the north, which blew directly down the path, not as many wheeled out as would otherwise have been the case, the conditions being rather discouraging for any but the practiced rider. The weather was otherwise beautiful and the scene from the club house a charming one. Mr. Wilson has four fine canoes to let and these and the private canoes and boats were in demand. The water trips were much enjoyed.

Over the clubhouse floats a beautiful specimen of the Stars and Stripes. The house presents an attractive appearance from the water, as well as from the land.

During the afternoon and evening inspiring music was furnished by an orchestra composed of Messrs. Frank Hills, E. C. and F. W. Adams and Mr. Simpson, pianist. In the evening dancing was enjoyed to their excellent music.

At the business meeting of the club in the afternoon the following officers were elected:

THE OFFICERS.

President, Isaiah K. Stetson.
Vice president, Edward P. Boutelle.
Secretary and treasurer, Percival A. Hubbard.
Directors, Chas. D. Crosby, Eugene H. Dalton, S. R. Prentiss, Edward Stetson, T. R. Savage, Chas. E. Woodward.
House committee, Chas. D. Crosby, S. R. Prentiss, Edward Stetson.

With two exceptions this is the same list as that of the previous year. Mr. P. A. Hubbard, who has acted most capably as treasurer, was also made secretary.

IMPROVEMENTS AT CLUB HOUSE.

Work will be commenced next week in grading the grounds about the club house. It is planned to make them very attractive. Work will also be begun next week on the wharf which is to be built in front of the house, and the boathouse, a short distance to the right. The boathouse will be an imposing structure, 60 by 40 feet, giving room for about 20 boats and over 30 canoes. Nearly all the space has already been engaged. The logs have been donated to the shore in preparation for building the wharf and float.

The bicycle path will be placed and kept in the best of condition and a man will be engaged at once to patrol it. He will be sworn in as a special policeman and will arrest any trespassers and keep off any undesirable characters, thus rendering it safe for ladies to ride there unattended. He will ride a wheel and go from one end to the other. There will be no fear of any interlopers. The new fairview is a six footer who will strike terror into the hearts of any rough customer who may stroll in.

The directors propose this season to strictly enforce the rules regarding the use of the path by those who are not members of the club. Last year they were lenient in this respect but will now be strict. Residents of Bangor not members of the club will not be allowed on the path, except on application to the house committee and such permission to ride may be granted. Ladies may use the path and be entertained at the club house for $1.00 a year. It will not be necessary to obtain tickets for friends of the members visiting in the city if the members are in the party, but visitors' tickets good for 30 days may be obtained of the treasurer or of the steward at the club house.

A Woman's Wish

GOLD DUST Washing Powder.
